

SEARCH News GO!

EXPLORE THIS STORY

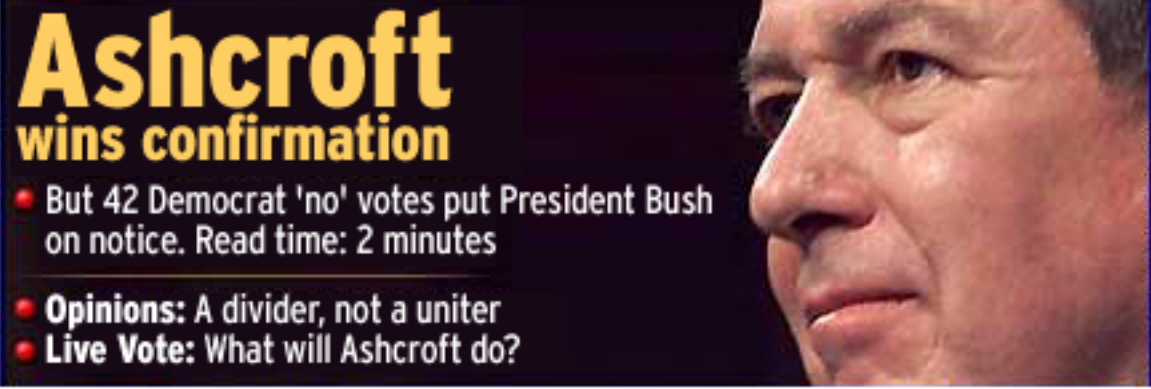

- From the Archives read previous Ashcroft stories Read Ashcroft stories from: The Post Dispatch The New York Times Washington Post Other...

Readers also wanted to know:

- What does an attorney general do? Analysis: How can you separate strong beliefs from job? Ashcroft bio and political history How other Bush nominees are faring What readers think

Read it? Rate it!

Not Rated 5 star rating scale Rate it

- But 42 Democrat 'no' votes put President Bush on notice. Read time: 2 minutes Opinions: A divider, not a uniter Live Vote: What will Ashcroft do?

Story posted: 17 minutes ago (18:37 GMT) News.com Reader Rank: 1 (375 readers in last 15 minutes) Story popular with: 35-55 year-old conservative males, 25-35 aged women in Southern California Avg. Reader Interest Rating: ★★★★★ Number of Comments: 55

Recent reader comments

Reader in Arlington, VA: why bi? (Score:1) by soulfinger on Thursday February 01, @10:23PM EST (Comment #3) What, may I ask, is so goddamned great about bipartisanship? Bipartisanship (or, in Clintonian terms, triangulation) is what drove me into Ralph Nader's skinny loveless arms... More comments

Reader's who read this also read:

- The Washington Round Up Bush: The First Hundred Days

Browse related stories: from News.com

- Is the Ashcroft nomination a red herring? Washington Notebook goes behind the scenes

from Readers

What Ashcroft means to the rights movement (Utne Reader) posted by ezReader123

The Story

WASHINGTON (Los Angeles Times) -- In the end, Democrats showed force but didn't pull the trigger. Republicans proved they could unify under pressure. But the real surprise behind the Senate's 58-42 vote to confirm John Ashcroft as attorney general Thursday was how both sides seemed ready to move on. There were few signs the battle would leave the long-term scars many had assumed would result from the controversial nomination.

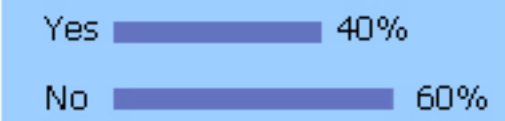

SAVE OR SEND THIS STORY

Send this story: Earn 50 ClickPoints Add to your favorites list (you can always remove it later) E-Mail to: My co-workers

VIEW FAVORITES LIST

(We'll set one up for you)

Has Bush's choice of Sen. Ashcroft made you rethink your vote for him?

Enter discussion

Bush: The first 2 weeks Watch tonight at 7pm on Channel 8. Remind me

The BUSH TRANSITION An interactive guide to the new administration

You have 900 ClickPoints!

Get this mug for only 800 ClickPoints

Send it to me!

News Page You Made

Click to see a page made with the stories that interest you.